DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. The rejection of Claims 1 and 34 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, is withdrawn because of the amendment filed 1/24/2008.
3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.
4. Claim 34 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

12:10-15 and claims 41-46 as filed describe heparin and SODm synergistically used in the claimed process together. However, the specification and claims do not describe that SODm can be used in the absence of heparin.

Therefore, claim 34 is not enabled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(A) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. The rejection of Claims 1-3, 7-18 and 34 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wang (6,358,557) in view of Fan et al. (5,620,738) is withdrawn .

Response to Arguments

The examiner does not understand the arguments presented by the applicant regarding the crosslinker of Wang ('557). The examiner had not discussed the crosslinker of Wang as a binding material.

To set the record straight, this rejection is being withdrawn because neither reference teaches oxirane or acetoacetoxy as binding compounds.

8. Claims 1-3 and 7-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over WO 99/38546.

'546 teaches applying to a stent or other device a composition comprising a binding component of isocyanate, aziridine, aldehyde such as cinnamaldehyde or several other species such as oxirane (11:1-6; see claims 1 and 17), a grafting component of acrylate groups (such as urethane acrylate), a photoinitiator and a ketone solvent and polymerizing the composition with UV light. A top composition of heparin is applied to the base layer (see Claims and page 4-19; Examples 1 and 4). The heparin binds to the binding component, thus immobilizing it (see claim 1). The amine groups on the heparin inherently bind to the base layer to effect end immobilization.

'546 does not teach the time, temperature or pH of claims 14 and 18, but it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have optimized the application of the heparin solution thru no more than routine experimentation.

Response to Arguments

The applicant has argued that '546 does not teach oxirane or acetoacetoxy compounds as binding agent.

The examiner disagrees.

Claims 1 and 17, as well as 11:1-6 disclose oxirane as a binding agent.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
